PASTOR'S NOTES

To Love Our Lord

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

When I was a kid, I always enjoyed this time of year. Going back to school was sort of exciting— call me weird. I liked seeing my classmates and hanging out with friends. I even looked forward to my first day of Kindergarten – just ask my mom. Recently, I have been thinking about education and religious education in particular. Today, I want to reflect on the role of parents as educators of our children in the faith of Our Lord Jesus.

Our Lord wants us to take our responsibility in handing on the faith very seriously. A reminder of the parent's role is part the baptismal rite of children in the Catholic Church. This role as main educator is something that Catholic parents commit to before God, namely, to the Christian education of their children. The rite of Baptism reminds parents (and godparents) of their duty to bring their children up by teaching them the law of Christ and His Church. This is a very serious obligation that parents have promised to Our Lord. The important part that parents have in raising their children in the faith cannot be emphasized too much. Sadly, I witnessed many parents who are asking the Church for the Sacrament of Baptism for their infant children or for the Sacraments of Confession, First Holy Communion, and Confirmation are themselves not sufficiently prepared to fulfill what the priest reminds them of at the beginning of the Rite of Baptism for children: "It will be your responsibility to bring him up to keep God's commandments as Christ taught us, by loving God and our neighbor."

In Matthew 28:19–20, Jesus commands His apostles and their followers to build the Kingdom of God: "Go, make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, and teach them to observe all the commands I gave you." To help our children to become disciples, parents must learn and accept by faith what Our Lord teaches by word and example. Their children who become disciples are then able to demonstrate by their life that they observe all the commands Jesus gave them. If parents don't teach their children the Catholic faith, who will?

As we begin this school year, I have been praying for parents of students of all ages — from preschool to postgraduate — that for the sake of our culture, they will take their education seriously but most importantly, that they will seek to learn and to live the Catholic faith. Teaching and living the faith is in fact, the most important thing that parents for their children. For above all else, parents must prepare their children for the journey and the road to heaven, by word and example.

St. Bernadette staff and catechists work very hard to give your children a quality religious education program year after year. But remember that the work of religious education is supplemental to your efforts on the home front. In other words, the blessings of my religious education only assisted my parents in their work at home. My parents taught me to pray. My parents taught me to live a moral life. My parents instilled in me the need to serve others in Christ's name. My parents taught me how to repent from my sins. My parents brought me to Mass and helped me to make Sunday Mass the top priority. My parents opened my eyes to a call to priestly service that in the end, has made my life most fulfilling. I pray that this parental call to teach the faith to your children is your top priorities during this year!

Student's Prayer by St. Thomas Aquinas

Creator of all things, true source of light and wisdom, origin of all being, graciously let a ray of your light penetrate the darkness of my understanding. Take from me the double darkness in which I have been born, an obscurity of sin and ignorance. Give me a keen understanding, a retentive memory, and the ability to grasp things correctly and fundamentally. Grant me the talent of being exact in my explanations and the ability to express myself with thoroughness and charm. Point out the beginning, direct the progress, and help in the completion. I ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen.

God Bless,

Who Will Entrust to You the True Riches?

What does wealth and riches have to do with the kingdom of God? Jesus seemed to praise a steward (a manager entrusted with his master's goods) who misused his wealthy employer's money. What did the steward do that made Jesus praise him? The steward was responsible for managing his wealthy landowner's property. The steward very likely overcharged his master's tenants for their use of the land and kept more than his fair share of the profit. When the landowner discovered the steward's dishonest practice, he immediately removed him from his job, leaving him penniless and ashamed to beg or do manual work.

The necessity of prudent foresight to avert disaster

Before news of his dismissal became public knowledge, the shrewd steward struck a deal with his master's debtors. In discounting their debts, he probably was giving up his generous commission. Such a deal won him great favor with the debtors. Since the steward acted as the landowner's agent, such a deal made his master look very generous and forgiving towards those who owned him money. Surely everyone would praise such a generous landowner as the town hero! Since the master could not undo the steward's cancellation of the debts without losing face and making his debtors resent him, he praised the steward for outwitting him and making him appear as a generous and merciful landowner.

Generous giving is rewarded with treasure that lasts forever

What's the point of Jesus' parable? Jesus did not praise the steward for his dishonest behavior but for his shrewd foresight in relieving the debts of others who he believed would, in turn, treat him as a friend and show him mercy, kindness, and generosity in his time of need and great want. Jesus immediately followed this parable with an exhortation to his followers to make use of the world's material goods, including "tainted money" (which in Hebrew means "unrighteous mammon"), to relieve those who are indebted to us for the material and physical help we give them in their time of need and want. In the Scriptures, generous giving is connected with alms giving - the sharing of our financial and material resources with those in need (Luke 12:33). Those who receive alms become your friends because you are merciful to them in their time of need. And God who sees all, rewards those who are generous in helping others.

Generous giving will be repaid in kind. Augustine of Hippo reminds us that we are all beggars of God.

"Even though you possess plenty, you are still poor. You abound in temporal possessions, but you need things eternal. You listen to the needs of a human beggar, you yourself are a beggar of God. What you do with those who beg from you is what God will do with his beggar. You are filled and you are empty. Fill your neighbor from your fullness, so that your emptiness may be filled from God's fullness" (Sermon 56, 9).

St. Paul reminds us, "We brought nothing into this world and we cannot take anything out of this world" (1 Timothy 6:7). The Lord Jesus wants us to make good use of all the resources that he gives us and that come into our possession. Our life is short - but how we invest in this present life will determine our future in the age to come when the Lord Jesus will raise our mortal bodies to immortality and give to each what he or she has sown in this present life.

The rabbis had a saying, "The rich help the poor in this world, but the poor help the rich in the world to come." Ambrose, a 4th century bishop commenting on the parable of the rich fool who tore down his barns to build bigger ones to store his goods, said: The bosoms of the poor, the houses of widows, the mouths of children are the barns which last forever. The true treasure which lasts is the treasure stored up for us in heaven. God richly rewards those who give generously from the heart to help those in need.

True generosity does not impoverish - but enriches the giver

What is the enemy of generosity? It's greed, the excessive desire for personal gain and security. However, we do not need to be afraid for true generosity does not impoverish the giver, but enriches that person a hundredfold! Generosity expands the soul - but greed contracts it. God is generous and superabundant in lavishing his gifts upon us. We can never outmatch God in generosity. He has given us the best of gifts in sending us his only-begotten Son, the Lord Jesus Christ, who offered up his life for us on the cross. The Father also offers us the gift of the Holy Spirit who fills us with the fruit of peace, joy, patience, kindness, love, and self-control (Galatians 5:22) - and many other blessings as well. Everything we have is an outright gift of God. Do you know the joy and freedom of blessing others with the gifts and resources God has given to you?

What controls or rules your life?

Jesus concludes his parable with a lesson on what controls or rules our lives. Who is the master (or ruler) in charge of your life? Our "master" is that which governs our thought-life, shapes our ideals, and controls the desires of the heart and the values we choose to live by. We can be ruled by many different things - the love of money or possessions, the power of position, the glamor of wealth and prestige, the driving force of unruly passions and addictions. Ultimately, the choice boils down to two: God and "mammon". What is mammon? "Mammon" stands for "material wealth or possessions" or whatever tends to "control our appetites and desires."

When a number of the religious leaders heard Jesus' parable, they reacted with scorn (Luke 16:14). Jesus spoke to the condition of their hearts - they were lovers of money (Luke 16:14). Love of money and wealth crowd out love of God and love of neighbor. Jesus makes clear that our heart must either be possessed by God's love or our heart will be possessed by the love of something else.

The Lord alone can satisfy our desires and give us generous hearts

There is one Master alone who has the power to set us free from greed and possessiveness. That Master is the Lord Jesus Christ who died to set us free and who rose to give us new abundant life. The Lord Jesus invites us to make him the Master and Lord of our lives. He alone can satisfy the desires of our heart and transform us in his love through the power of the Holy Spirit.

Our money, time, and possessions are precious resources and gifts from God. We can guard them jealously for ourselves alone or allow the love of the Lord to guide us in making good use of them for the benefit of others - especially those in need - and for the work of the Lord in advancing his kingdom. Ask the Lord to fill your heart with a spirit of generosity and joy in sharing what you have with others.

Lord Jesus, all that I have is a gift from you. May I love you freely and generously with all that I possess. Help me to be a wise and faithful steward of the resources you put at my disposal, including the use of my time, money, and possessions. dailyscripture.org

Answering the Call!

Have you ever looked around a parish and thought to yourself that the same people do everything? Well, sometimes it seems that way but have you ever stopped to think why that might be so? Certainly, some members have more time and talents to give in support of the life of the church, however, often times the reason that the same people do so many things is simply because they are needed and no one else stepped forward.

A parish is a community that functions much like a family. As members of the family of God, we share a common mission and common goals. We share in the benefits and in the responsibilities that come with being a member of this family.

When we join or even attend services at a parish on a regular basis, we become members of that family not just visitors. The parish is our spiritual home and you cannot visit a place that is home.

Serving the family of God through our parish community is an important part of how we live out our baptismal call to grow in holiness. Parishes thrive when members step forward and offer to serve the community. Every week, there are a variety of jobs and service opportunities that need to be filled by parishioners. For example, each weekend there are sixteen usher, eight lector, and a variety of choir and musical positions that must be filled. Members are needed to help with our youth programs and our catechetical ministries as well as to bring communion to the sick and to shut-ins. From our funeral hospitality to Sunday donuts and special events, there is room for everyone to participate in the life of the parish.

The call to be an active member in the Family of God is universal and one that we all share. Look around and think of ways that you can answer God's call to serve His people by saying, "Here am I, Lord; I come to do your will!" An effective parish does not rely on individuals who consider themselves volunteers but rather on people who understand that they are members of a family and, as such, they share not only in the benefits but also in the responsibilities that come with being part of a family.

JESUS

THE WAY, THE TRUTH, AND THE LIFE

The whole of our Catholic Faith is centered around a single figure: Jesus Christ. He is our Savior, our Redeemer, our Lord and our God. While many of us already know a lot about Him, how well can we say that we really “know” Him?

Starting on October 4 at 7 pm and running for 10 consecutive weeks, St. Bernadette will be offering a course facilitated by Deacon Peter Auriemma called Jesus: The Way, The Truth and The Life. It is a new and fresh look at Jesus – who He is, what He is really like, what He taught, what He did for our salvation, and what this means for us.

This is an opportunity to immerse yourself in the life of Jesus and experience Him in a whole new way, a way that will help you come face to face with the One we call the Son of God. The study was written by the Biblical scholars Marcellino D’Ambrosio, Jeff Cavins, and Edward Sri, and it is presented through a series of videos, which were beautifully filmed on location in the Holy Land, as well as through in depth discussion of the material which was presented following the videos. If you have ever wanted to learn more about Jesus, to draw closer to Him, or even to visit the Holy Land, then plan to join us on Tuesday evening at 7pm on October 4. This is a chance to have an encounter with Jesus which can inspire and empower you to center your life around Him as you come to know Him in an even deeper and more intimate way.

For more information or to register, contact the Parish Office.
